Wayne native Paul J. Oster has begun receiving a 19-week training period as a Michigan State Police trooper at the MSPT Recruit School in Lansing.

Oster, a member of the 118th Michigan State Police Trooper Recruit School, is slated to graduate on Dec. 3. He will then be assigned to one of the 64 state police posts in Michigan.

He will receive training in criminal law, criminal investigation, crime scene processing, patrol tactics, physical fitness, first aid, firearms and defensive tactics.

Of the current recruits, 44 have military experience, 26 have prior law enforcement experience and 95 are college graduates.

Army Reserve Pvt. Michael P. Nadolski, son of Lila S. Nadolski of Belleville, has entered basic military training under the split option program at Fort Knox, KY.

Upon graduation, Nadolski will be a member of the Army National Guard or Reserve.

The program allows students between their junior and senior year of high school to attend national guard or reserve weekend drills, while still in school.

Upon graduation the student then is given an opportunity to pursue a military career specialty.

Michael P. Nadolski

Nadolski is a student at Lincoln High School in Ypsilanti.

Cameron Joseph Markey-Butson, son of Pamela Butson of Lincoln Park and Richard Markey of Wayne, was born June 11, 1999 at Garden City Hospital.

He weighed seven pounds and 15 ounces and measured 21 inches at birth.

His grandparents include: Pat and Gerald Butson of Lincoln Park; Marlene Markey of Wayne and the late Richard Markey.

Cody Allen Byrd, son of Margaret and Jimmy Byrd of Westland, was born Oct. 8, 1998 at Garden City Hospital.

He weighed nine pounds and eight ounces and measured 21 inches at birth.

He joins a brother, Jimmy, three years, at home.

His grandparents include Fred and Pat Smith of Wayne, Robert Byrd of Wayne and the late Faye Byrd.

Westland resident Crystal Lynn Berry, a 1998 graduate of John Glenn High School, will graduate from the U.S. Navy boot camp at Great Lakes, Ill. on Sept. 23, 1999.

She joined the U.S. Navy on May 22 in the delayed entry program and left for training on July 19.

Upon graduation she will enter a Naval communications school for 16 weeks.

Her grandparents include Alma and Jacob Ortiz and Jacquelyn Berry.

Teacher of Year joins Space Camp

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Last year's Teacher of the Year Tim Graham of Westland recently participated in the 10th annual International Space Camp at the U.S. Space and Rocket Center.

Graham, a science teacher at Theodore Roosevelt High School in Wyandotte, took part in the space age program from July 30-Aug. 7 along with many other Teachers of the Year.

Graham, who has been a teacher for 15 years, also won the 1997 Milken Award -- a prestigious educational award that includes a $25,000 personal gift to winners.

"We believe that NASA's investment in education is indeed an investment in America's future," said Jim Pruitt, director of the Education Programs Office at NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center.

"NASA is about inspiration, real science and learning by doing. It's important for educators to have access to the science and technology generated by our nation's space program," he added.

In addition to the Teachers of the Year, top educators and students from 22 countries attended the Space Camp.

The countries included: Argentina, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Brazil, Costa Rica, Czech Republic, Denmark, Finland, Germany, Greece, Hungary, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Singapore, South Africa, South Korea, Spain, Sweden, Turkey and the United Kingdom.

Graham, and his wife, Beth, have three children in the Wayne-Westland School District -- Whitney, Ryan and Brooke.

Watts to celebrate 50th anniversary lem because this person was not reprimanded or ticketed and he did it in front of his four-year-old son.

It matters worse because he knew that he was above any laws and they weren't going to ticket him or reprimand him. (I had gone to neighborhood mediation with him and we signed an agreement, but he has failed to live up to his word and there has been no follow-up from the city.)

The city of Westland needs to be reviewed by someone in the public eye. I am writing a state representative, a congressman, and a state senator, taking pictures and showing what the violations are. I am mostly concerned about my health, that is why I am taking all the necessary steps.

We wouldn't need schools of choice if curriculum was the same everywhere

I'm calling in regards to the school of choice program.

You know, we really wouldn't need the school of choice program if all schools carried the same curriculum. Livonia schools have a higher curriculum standard than the Wayne-Westland schools. As far as that goes, so do the schools in North Carolina.

The United States needs to look around and make sure that all schools, whether in California or Michigan, have the same curriculum for every child.

Voters should put new blood and fresh ideas on Westland City Council

Westland voters, please pay attention to this year's council race. Please look at some fresh faces with fresh ideas.

We don't need the good old boy network of Trav Griffin and David Cox. We took Mr. Griffin out in 1990 and he came back. We took out Mr. Cox in 1995 and now he's back.

Both give politics a bad name. Both are not to be trusted.

We have some people running who have never been in public office. We ought to give them a chance and get some new ideas for our city.

Neighbor can't get Westland police, mayor to stop cursing neighbors

I've lived in Westland on the same street in the same house for 27 years and I never had problems with the neighbors like I have now. They curse at my children and me, they have threatened me, I have called the police to no avail. Other neighbors have heard them curse at me and everything else.

What do we have to do make this kind of stuff stop.

I have talked to the mayor's office, the police department, and everybody is telling me as long as they're on they're own property, we can't do anything about it.

What happened at Columbine High? Weren't there warning signs before that happened?

Or what about this man who was arrested for cursing in front of a child?

These are my children and this needs to be stopped.

I forgot to mention the part about them turning me into social services. My children are teenagers, not children, and they say that I leave them home alone, which I do not.

The worker found nothing wrong in my situation.

Also, I have been arrested for threatening her. Why does that happen? What does it take to get the police to act on threats?

Summit banquet hall gets new look

The Canton Board of Trustees approved a contract with "Summit Gourmet" to provide food services at the Summit on the Park community center.

With the food service contract through Cregar Enterprises expiring, Canton advertised and accepted proposals for a new food vendor at the summit earlier this year. Following through reviews of various proposal, focusing on the quality of food, presentation and service, an internal committee selected Summit Gourmet of Livonia.

Under the contract Summit Gourmet has exclusive commercial food service right to the Summit.

Forensic dentist erred twice, falsely accused deserve cash

Something doesn't add up. Two guys were wrongfully jailed for murder. One spent 10 months in jail. The other spent 5 months. Families were torn apart and jobs were lost. Both were exonerated, yet they cannot receive compensation for being falsely accused.

In these two cases, the number one accuser was Dr. Alan Warnick, Wayne County's chief forensic dentist. In both murder cases he falsely accused good, upstanding citizens of murder, by claiming teeth marks on the victims were exclusively those of the accused. He testified, under oath, in court, in both preliminary exams, that the bite marks could only be those of the accused.

In both cases, Warnick was wrong. Take Ricky Amolsch. The Westland resident was accused of the brutal murder of his girlfriend, Janice Fray. Fray was found in her Westland Meadows mobile home, stabbed 22 times, strangled with a heating pad cord, bite marks all over her face, and a steak knife sticking out of her mouth.

Bite marks were the only evidence against Amolsch. Bite marks that Dr. Warnick claimed belonged to Amolsch. He was jailed for 10 months until a Chicago dentist proved the marks were actually made by next-door-neighbor and convicted rapist, Anthony Guy Walker.

Anthony Otero tells a similar story. The Redford man was jailed for 5 months when Dr. Warnick testified bite marks found on a dead woman belonged to Otero. However, the same dental impressions were sent to a second dentist who did not concur with Warnick. Neither did DNA evidence.

Dr. Warnick, however, made his position clear in court when he said, "nobody in the world (except Otero) would make the marks (in question)."

I guess you were wrong, Dr. Warnick. Not once, but at least twice. Two innocent men have had their lives torn apart because of your careless testimony. Shame on you.

Or, lucky you. Attempts to sue Dr. Warnick in court, have not worked. Both Amolsch and Otero have suits pending, seeking restitution for losses incurred after being charged. But because Dr. Warnick is an employee of Wayne County, lawyers would have to prove he violated his legal obligation to the people.

And the Appeals Court has already ruled the lawsuits are without merit.

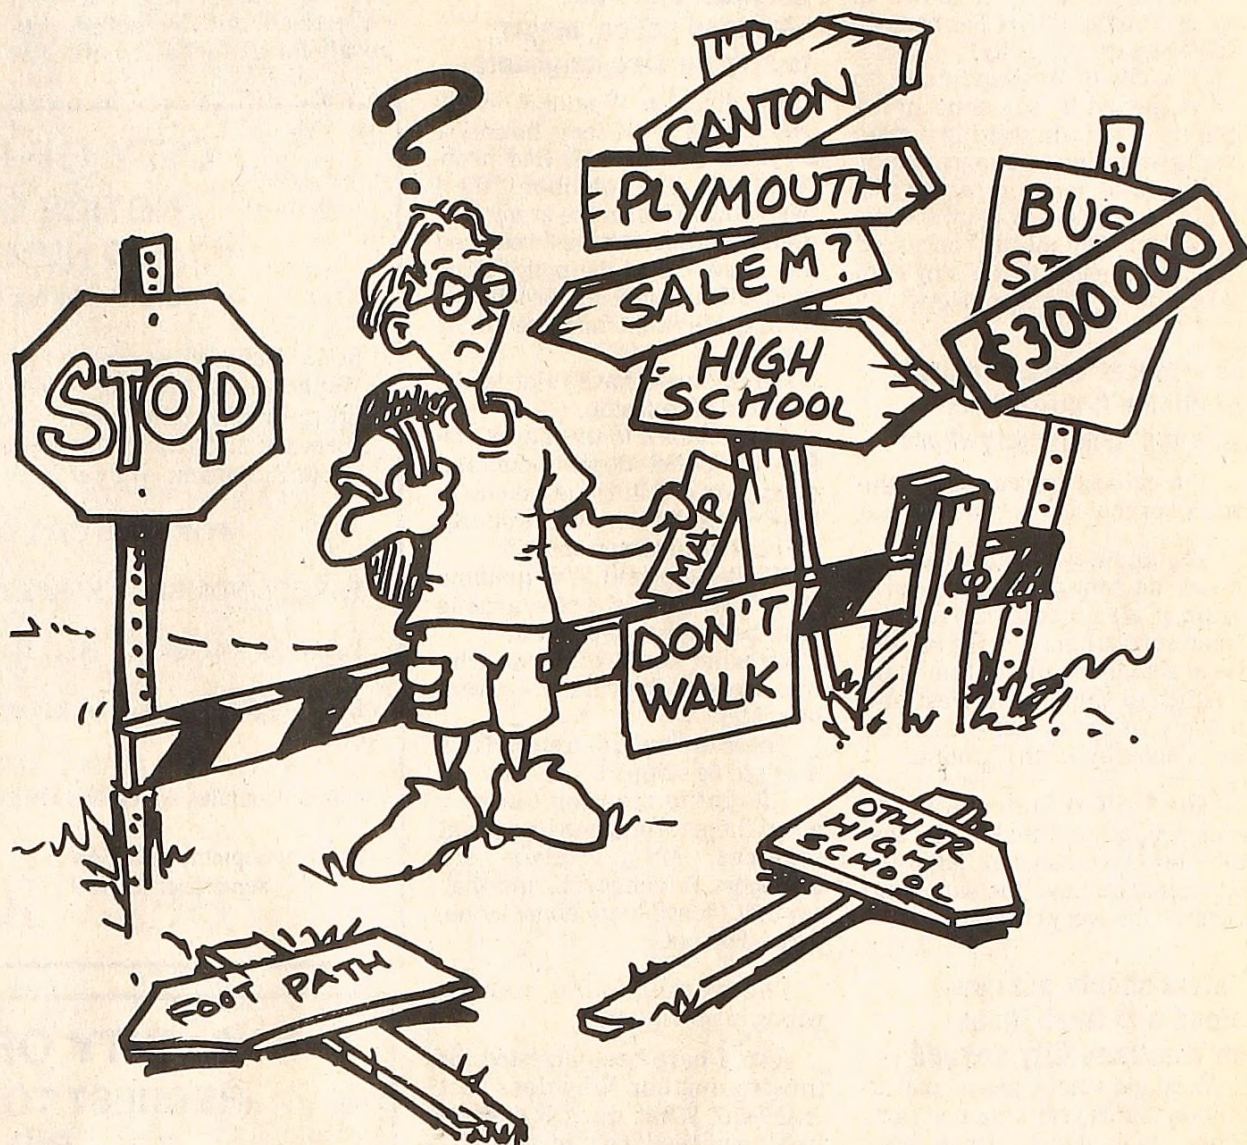

That leaves the criminal court. Amolsch, Otero and their friends and family spent Monday, two weeks ago picketing Dr. Warnick's Livonia office. Their hope was to bring publicity to their plight. Despite TV cameras and newspaper badges everywhere, Wayne County Prosecutor John O'Hair remained steadfast in his decision not to prosecute Dr. Warnick.

Whether Dr. Warnick made a couple of honest mistakes, or worse, committed perjury under oath, which is what Otero claims, there ought to be a penalty. At the very least this dentist should not be allowed to give expert testimony in future court trials. And some how, some way, Amolsch and Otero deserve compensation from Warnick, or the county, for the pain and suffering they endured spending time in jail for crimes they did not commit.

Mike's musings

Mike Wilcox

Create parks, not giant recreation centers

When I first came to Canton, a planning consultant told the township that it needed parks.

The township was far short of providing residents with park acreage suggested by Department of Natural Resources guidelines, according to the consultant's report.

At first the township was in denial. Elected officials claimed that common spaces in subdivisions provided the missing park areas. Besides, at that time the township was building the Summit, which would provide residents with plenty of recreation — a pool, a gym, and a workout room.

The Summit would also provide a place to bring together the sprawling community.

While the Summit was built with $12.5 million from the township's share of landfill tipping fees and subsidized with $400,000 per year of taxpayers' money, it's success has been mixed.

Planned by a committee instead of a successful health club owner, it ended up with a cramped workout room and chintzy exercise machines. Feeling shortchanged, many fitness buffs quit and taxpayers must foot the remodeling bill for a larger workout room and better equipment.

Overbuilt, the Summit has too many meeting rooms. Rather than sit empty, these rooms are too often used for government seminars presented by Canton officials, including a seminar on how to build a recreation center.

The downside of this is a vicious cycle. Taxpayers waste money paying Canton workers to develop dubious bureaucratic programs so Summit meeting halls can be rented for the seminars. Then some of the dubious programs are put in place in Canton, expanding the government and diverting money that could have been applied to constructing landscaped residential boulevards instead of the township's evolving network of commercial five-lane asphalt strips.

Ivan Helfman

When Canton bureaucrats temporarily ran out of seminars to hawk, they rented the joint out to educators and local education lobbyists, who assembled a mob to pressure area state legislators to spend more money on education.

To prevent this cycle, Westland should be awful careful about putting large meeting rooms and banquet halls in their planned recreation center. (Westland should also hire a successful health club owner to design its exercise room up to commercial space and equipment standards.)

Meanwhile, Canton officials quit denying their need for parks and went on a buying spree, acquiring park land, building neighborhood parks, and sprucing up old neighborhood parks.

Because these parks serve neighbors, they are creating much more neighborliness and community spirit than the Summit. They're also more family friendly. After all, you can't take the family dog to the Summit.

Dog walkers, bladders, soccer players, and groups of kids are all at the parks. On windy days, you sometimes see kites. During the summer, it has been difficult to find an empty tennis court in Canton.

The newly opened Freedom Park on Palmer and Sheldon is already crowded. As expected, the roller hockey rink has been packed. Somewhat surprising, the nine-hole disc golf course has become popular. In disc golf, competitors toss Frisbees into chain baskets that look like large bird cages. There's usually a wait to play.

As park usage increases, Canton is acquiring more park land. The township board recently set the wheels in motion to buy 88.7 acres for another park near Ridge road, splitting the cost with the DNR.

While there hasn't been another consultant's report, I wouldn't be surprised if to learn that the township has now exceeded the DNR's park guidelines. I'm glad that township officials got out of denial and rose to the challenge. I also hope that they start to realize the benefits of investing in neighborhoods, including friendlier streets and roads. If they do, they can build a decent community yet.

Thanks a Million

WEEKLY SYNDICATED COLUMN BY PERCY ROSS

Millionaire Percy Ross is known for his philanthropic work. He offers help and encouragement for those in need. He has earned a fortune and a wealth of knowledge during his lifetime and wants to share both. His motto: "He who gives while he lives... also knows where it goes."

Better Lay In A Five Year Supply of Beef Jerky

Dear Mr. Ross: Just this morning I prayed that the Lord would help me get some extra cash and then I found your column. You see, with this Y2K crisis coming up so fast, I'm very concerned about our children and grandchildren who are scattered from California to Idaho and from Oklahoma to Alabama. Each of them is living from one paycheck to the next.

My husband and I are only on Social Security, but we have always tried to stay out of debt. We have built a large house, debt-free, so now we have invited each of our kids to sell anything they can, get out of debt, and come to live with us through this time of crisis. That is 25 people, but we will manage, even if all of them come.

We have tried to get some emergency food on hand, but do not have nearly enough to handle meals for the estimated period of trouble—1 to 5 years. We have checked with several companies that are selling dehydrated foods.

They estimate $1,500 per person, per year. I'd like to order $5,000 worth of dry foods and by trusting in God's power to bless the "loaves and fishes" I believe we can make it. Please, any help you can give. There just isn't much time to get these items before Y2K strikes.

Mrs. J. L. ... Thrifty Nickel, Birmingham, AL

Dear Mrs. L.: A person would have to be living with his head in the sand to not realize Y2K will yield some problems. But I do not believe the problems that may arise will cut off the world's food supply. But then you didn't ask me for my opinion.

However, you did ask me for $5,000 to purchase dehydrated food and by now you can probably guess I'm turning you down. I'm not saying problems won't happen at 12:01 a.m. on January 1, 2000. It's just that I feel better investing in the here and now, rather than in something that may or may not happen 5 months from now.

Porn theater's refuse should be burned far away

To the Editor:

In your August 19 paper you had a front page article about what was disposed in the Van Buren Dump from Melody Theater. Why was this stuff not burned?

Kids can go into dumps and if they go into one-- look what they can get in to, which would start a lot of trouble.

Where are people's minds and brains, that is, if they have any to put to proper use instead of stupid use? I believe this was bad judgement.

I believe this should be taken out of the Van Buren Dump and taken to a far away area and burned to cinders.

What has happened to people's logical sense? Did it get thrown in the dump also?

I hope we get rid of the adult book store next for it's just as bad. Was glad to see the theater get knocked down.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Weathers

Wayne City Council has no respect for residents

To the Editor:

I am dismayed over the utter contempt and animosity most of the Wayne City Council has for our city's residents. With the recent meetings regarding the rezoning of the Glenwood property for the CVS/Arbor Corporation the city council, city attorney, Mr. Clark, Mr. Zech and Ms. Manns openly showed the deep lack of respect they have for the people of Wayne.

Their true feelings were clearly shown by Councilwoman Lentine's remark for the residents "to just deal with it."

Obviously it is time to make some important changes to our city government. With the upcoming election we have the opportunity to clean house and elect a council that will be more in touch with and sensitive to the wishes of its constituents.

Sincerely yours,
Daniel J. Ursem

Is the fog lifting on federal labor policy?

To the Editor:

For more than six decades, Congress tried to hide its central role in creating the problem of compulsory unionism in the 1935 National Labor Relations Act (NLRA) and denied it had any responsibility to correct its mistake.

But on this Labor Day weekend, with the Twentieth Century drawing to a close, the fog appears to be lifting on Capitol Hill.

U.S. Rep. Peter Hoekstra (R-Mich.), chairman of the House Education & the Workforce Committee's oversight panel, has expressed interest in launching a reexamination of federal-imposed compulsory unionism in his chamber.

Acting at Mr. Hoekstra's request, National Right to Work Committees representatives are now assembling evidence and a witness list for a possible House panel hearing on forced union dues and the problems associated with them.

I am confident that a hearing like the one now being considered would help mobilize the already widespread public support for removing the NLRA and Railway Labor Act (RLA) provisions that authorize the firing of workers for refusal to pay dues or so-called "agency fees" to a union.

Currently, under these two laws eight million American workers must fork over to Big Labor an average of more than $600 a piece every year simply to keep their jobs.

The fact is, poll after poll shows that nearly 80% of citizens agree no employee should be forced to affiliate with a union. For decades, Big Labor was understood that forced unionism is politically indefensible and made only sporadic, pro forma efforts to justify it in principle.

Nonetheless, over the years many elected officials who have been the union bosses' targets, including generations of leaders of the Republican Party in Congress, have lacked the political will to attack this Achilles' heel.

Time and time again, members of Congress have complained about union officials' use of billions of dollars in compulsory-dues money for partisan politicking without acknowledging that it was Congress that put the money in union political operatives' hands.

Fortunately, Mr. Hoekstra's evident interest in holding a hearing on forced unionism isn't the only recent sign that the House may at last be ready for a real debate over this issue.

When Congress' late-summer recess began last month, 128 House members, including well over half the GOP caucus, had already sponsored a bill, authored by Rep. Bob Goodlatte (R-Va.), that would repeal federally-imposed forced union dues.

Moreover, nearly 40 of these members had already written House Speaker Dennis Hastert (R-Ill.) to urge him to bring Mr. Goodlatte's National Right to Work Act to the floor for a recorded vote.

And during a heart-to-heart talk in June with representatives of grass-roots groups in Washington, D.C., Majority Whip Tom DeLay (R-Texas) stressed the need for opponents of the pro-forced unionism Clinton Administration to "mature issues and break out of the fog."

That is precisely why Right to Work members around the country are eager for the entire House to vote on the Right to Work Bill as soon as possible, even though, because of Big Labor's forced dues-fed clout in Congress, it will be an uphill battle to pass the bill this year or next.

No major change happens overnight. The Reagan-era tax cuts and tax indexation and the welfare reform of 1996 are examples of efforts that took years to come to fruition.

But a vote on the Goodlatte bill now would at a minimum break up the Inside-the-Beltway "fog" that impedes pro-Right to Work constituents' efforts to find out where their elected officials stand.

And Mr. Hoekstra and his oversight panel can help by exposing the flimsiness of the rationals, offered by many union-label congressmen, that workers are forced to pay dues "for their own good."

Millions of American workers are not helped, but seriously harmed, when Congress forces them to accept a union as their so-called "exclusive representative" and to bankroll it.

For example, according to the LRA's Economic Notes, a newsletter put out by a New York-based consulting firm whose client list includes many union officials, last year Big Labor "represented" manufacturing workers were nearly four times as likely to be laid off as self-represented manufacturing workers.

The best person to judge whether union activities benefit an individual worker is the worker himself and federal law ought to reflect that fact.

Most Americans have recognized this for a long time. The good news this Labor Day is that Congress may finally be about to catch up.

Councilwoman had fun at fish day, caught one

Letter to the Editor:

Many thanks to the Huron Valley Conservation Club members who presented the Family Fish Day at the boardwalk in Belleville on August 21. Thanks to all the merchants who donated prizes.

The weather was perfect. The children and adults who gathered had a great time. It was such fun to observe the interaction of dads, moms and the "kids." I love to watch a child bring their catch up out of the water as all kids close by would squeal with delight. I really had fun watching moms "trying" to remove the catch from the hook as the youngsters all up and down the boardwalk cheered the moms on.

I had an opportunity to invite all attendees back and at that time asked for their cooperation in keeping the boardwalk neat for the next fisherman who may want to fish.

I had fun and even caught a fish. I think I'll sneak away from work and go down some worms again soon.

MICHIGAN COMMUNITY NEWSPAPERS

Single crowd will like '99 SonomaBy KAREN STRONSKI
MCN Staff Writer

GMC's 1999 Sonoma hits the streets with bold styling both inside and out. It gives compact truck buyers a unique combination of pickup functionality and sports car personality.

The cleaner body lines of the front end flow out from the new composite headlamps. The new body colored bumper has a smoother appearance than the Sonomas of the past. It looks better than in previous years due to the fact that it is not nearly as boxy.

The interior is just about the same as the 1998, and the seats are still uncomfortable. Far too hard, especially for the long rides. Sonoma's instrument panel includes next generation driver and passenger airbags, a new gauge cluster and a backlit headlamp switch. Thoughtful amenities come at no additional cost, and include a passenger side IP-mounted assist grip, two dash mounted power outlets underneath the ashtray.

The new IP features radio and HVAC controls angled 15 degrees toward the driver for improved accessibility. Another ergonomic change is the latch for the glove box is moved to the drivers door to prevent such a reach. Which is good considering so many of the gadgets are on the wiper arm.

While driver the Sonoma, I found the acceleration to be quick and nimble, and the road noise to be at a minimum. The handling was great, and getting in or out of small parking spaces was easy. The turning radius was wonderful. If you plan on taking it four-wheeling, not a problem either with the push-on-the-fly four wheel drive, you can go from street to sand in an instant.

Even though I had the extended cab model, I found the rear to be so small to put an adult in. And frightened of the thought to put a child back

GMC 4WD Sonoma with wideside body.

GMC 2WD Sonoma with sportside body there. It's just too small. However, it would hold groceries or golf clubs without much of a problem. The jump seats are just not wide enough or comfortable. Not to mention how hard it is to get back there.

The stereo had ample power, and was average on sound. The compact disc player skipped when going over a rough road or when hitting a bump. GMC claims that all of the electronic bells and whistles are just where you would put them; however, I thought differently. Why must they take one control arm and cram everything on it? In my opinion, you must take your eyes off the road just to find the exact switch or lever you are looking for.

Gas mileage on the Sonoma was what you would expect a compact truck to have, maybe a little bit less. It averaged 16 miles to the gallon in the city and 19-20 on the highway. My test vehicle was an extended cab, 4.3 liter vortex V6 engine with a four-speed auto transmission with overdrive.

The price of this GMC was based at $19,963, and as tested $24,318. I thought the truck was a little bit pricey when compared to others in its class. I found this one to be just average. It would be satisfactory for running errands, for utility and even four-wheeling. I just didn't feel at ease of comfortable in it. And if I had children, I surely wouldn't put them in the extended cab. For a single guy or gal who likes to have fun it's fine, for a family, I'd think again!

Glenn rolls, Salem sputters in opener

Rockets seek No. 2 at Churchill

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Over the past decade, Livonia Churchill has been an easy "W" for John Glenn coach Chuck Gordon and the Rockets.

But, Friday night, when the two Western Lakes Conference opponents meet in a crossover game, the Westlanders don't expect anything to come easy. Churchill is coming off of an impressive and hard-fought opening day 15-13 victory over Redford Union, one of the powers in the Mega Conference this season, while Glenn managed to pull out a 17-6 victory before the home crowd over Detroit Cooley.

"We have some problems that we're working on," said Gordon. "I expect Churchill to be waiting for us."

Glenn tailback Eric Jones picked up where he left off in his junior year. Jones rushed for 159 yards on 29 carries and two touchdowns to pack the Rockets' ballcarriers.

Glenn got on the board late in the first quarter after a sustained drive that ended with Jones's one-yard TD plunge. Jerry Catarino's converted the point-after and the Rockets had a 7-0 lead with 1:06 left in the quarter.

Cooley's defense accounted for the visitor's only touchdown. Marcus Gwyn managed to get past the Rocket defense to junior quarterback Randy Sinnott and blocked a pass which he scooped up and returned 47 yards for a touchdown.

Cooley's two-point conversion attempt failed.

With 56 seconds left before the half, Glenn got on the scoreboard again thanks to a 42-yard field goal by Catarino which widened the gap in the Rockets' favor, 10-6.

Glenn got an insurance touchdown in the fourth quarter and again it was Jones who got

7th-ranked Western is next

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

These are not the best of times for coach Tom Moshimer and the Plymouth-Salem Rocks.

And it may even become the worst of times in the coming weeks.

After an upsetting 40-13 loss at the hands of Port Huron Northern on Friday, coach Moshimer and the Rocks will face none other than the seventh-ranked team in the state and Western Lakes Conference title favorite Walled Lake Western in a crossover game Friday night.

"Western and John Glenn are the best two teams on our schedule this season," said Moshimer, who launched his 41st year in coaching - his 33rd at Salem. "There is no doubt that we have our work cut out for us."

Western humiliated White Lake-Lakeland in their home opener Friday night.

Against Port Huron Northern, Salem committed three costly errors in the third quarter which broke open a close game and turned it into a Huron rout.

The game was tied at 13-all the intermission thanks to a pair of touchdowns involving Andy Kocolowski, who scored the first on a two-yard plunge and later caught a 34-yard TD pass from quarterback Matt Fair. Jason Furr connected on both point-after.

But, for all purposes, the Rocks could have stayed in the locker room after the intermission.

Huron moved 80 yards in its first series in the third quarter and scored. Then they caught the Rocks sleeping and recovered an onside kick which resulted in a touchdown and, after the ensuing kickoff, again got the ball back deep in Salem territory after another turnover.

Romulus begins new era with win over Wayne

Kennedy is next for Eagles; Fordson invades Wayne Friday

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Romulus, which posted a perfect 9-0 record in winning the Mega Conference, Gold Division football title a year ago, began a new era and a new division with a 21-12 victory Friday night over visiting Wayne Memorial.

Impressed by Romulus and not disappointed by the first-game loss, Wayne Memorial head coach Floyd Carter said afterwards that he saw some bright spots in defeat.

"We were outmanned by Romulus," said Carter, "pound-for-pound their (Romulus) line was stronger, bigger and more physical, but our kids refused to quit and with six minutes left it was still a 14-12 game.

"I was very pleased with our team's first-game effort."

Romulus coach Mark Woodson wasn't too kind with his players.

"You have to be happy when you win," Woodson added. "But I am a little disappointed in the team because I felt we were not playing smart. When you're slapped with two personal fouls and have a total of nine penalties - that's not playing smart."

"We can't give up yardage or the ball foolishly. And that's why I am being critical."

Woodson and the Eagles are on the road Friday when they travel to Taylor Kennedy for their first-ever Mega Conference Blue Division encounter. They stepped up to the upper bracket of the Mega Conference after winning the title last year.

Kennedy was whipped by Woodhaven 36-7, in a conference crossover game in their opener, but Woodson warns that the Taylor club is stronger than the score indicates.

"I saw them scrimmage and I know that they are much more capable than they showed against Woodhaven."

In the meantime, Wayne will open the home and the Mega Conference Red Division phase of the season Friday night entertaining Fordson, one of the pre-season favorites to win the divisional title.

Fordson is also coming off of an opening season 26-6 loss to Detroit Kettering, and Carter says he expects to see a Fordson team ready to prove

Wayne running back Kwame Hampton finds his path blocked by an unidentified Romulus tackler in the play above, but the senior tailback managed to score both of the Zebras' touchdowns Friday night in an unsuccessful bid to defeat the 1999 Mega Conference, Gold Division champs. Twisters bounce back

The Twisters bounced back from their first loss of the season in the Lake Shore Semi-Pro Football League to whip the Lima (Ohio) Thunder, 21-0, for their fifth win in six starts.

It also was the Twisters' second shutout of the 1999 campaign.

"Our total offensive unit deserves a lot of credit for this win," said Jason Hagelthorn, head coach. "They have worked very hard on a new scheme that we installed earlier this season. Anything new usually has its problems, but thanks to our coaching staff, we have been successful."

The Twisters, behind quarterback Rob Elswick, generated a total of 402 yards in defeating the Thunder on the home field at Cherry Hill High.

Elswick completed six passes for a total of 153 yards. Former Romulus star, Reggie Brandon, led all receivers with 90 yards on two catches, one going for a 72 yard gem early in the first period.

While running his route, Brandon slipped and fell but he managed to get his hands on the ball and keep control.

Untouched by the defender, Brandon immediately sprang to his feet and raced to and into the Thunder end zone for the first Twister score.

Eight Twister running backs piled up a total of 249 yards on the ground. The ball carriers were led by Lamar Spalding of Westland. Spalding had 92 yards on 10 carries and one TD.

Eddie Trent, also from Westland, picked up 45 yards on four tries, while Damon Frendo chipped in 44 yards on seven carries. Derrick Young added 24 yards on three rushes.

The Twisters also received a TD from Damon Green, who scored his first as a semi-pro player midway into the third quarter when he bulled eight yards for the six-points. Teammate Chuck Petitas split the uprights three consecutive times with the points-after.

The Twisters were in trouble early when the Thunder racked up four first downs and marched 58 yards to the three.

The Twisters were faced with a first and goal situation. But the defense, sparked by Bob Pensari and Aaron Brothers, along with Matt Graca and Eric Thompson, refused to crack.

The Thunder had four plays to cover the three yards and their series ended at the one. The series turned the game into a Twisters' rout, according

A perfect scenario for Robichaud, Inkster

Bulldogs win for new coach

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Coach Mark Medlock couldn't have asked for a better scenario. The first-year Robichaud coach got an opening-day victory over a traditionally-tough arch-rival that had beaten the Westwood high school team in the past three encounters.

And those losses cost the Bulldogs postseason playoff appearances during that span.

"It was a big victory for us," said Medlock, who quarterbacked the Bulldogs back in the 1970s and was promoted this season to the head coaching job.

"We played through a lot of pain and injuries, but didn't commit a single turnover in winning this one."

Medlock pointed to an early second quarter interception by free safety Wendell Winn "that turned this game around for us."

Grosse Ile scored midway in the opening period before the Islanders' home crowd and appeared to have everything under control before Winn grabbed the misguided pass. The Bulldogs took over on their own 45 yard line.

Robichaud quarterback David Jarrett then engineered a 55-yard drive that culminated with a 19-yard TD strike to tight end Marcus Johnson.

But the Bulldogs failed to capitalize on the point-after and trailed at half, 7-6.

The visitors made up the difference early in the third quarter when Jarrett gave the ball to fullback Darius Robinson, who broke loose from the 12 and went in for the Bulldogs' go-ahead touchdown.

Up 12-7, Robichaud came back and scored again as the Islanders' offense collapsed behind two consecutive turnovers. Jarrett scored on a seven-yard bootleg that lifted Robichaud to an 18-7 lead and, after another Islander fumble, Jarrett combined with Juhad Abdullah on a 15-yard TD pass for the final Robichaud score.

In his debut at QB, Jarrett connected on 13 of 27 passes for 182 yards and two of his aeri-als went for scores, while he rushed for a third.

After the shaky first quarter, Robichaud's came back and

Vikings crush Redeemer

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

"If only the rest of the season would go like this one," said Inkster coach Mark Townsend, after the Vikings pounded Detroit Holy Redeemer, 42-6, Friday afternoon at Inkster High.

"We scored 20 points in the first quarter, and that's the most we have scored in one period for a long time. Our offense and defense looked sharp."

No. 2 for Townsend and the Vikings will have to come at the expense of a wounded Melvindale. The Cardinals were shut out 28-0 by a strong River-view club in their opener, and Townsend was quick to remind his players that "Melvindale is a very physical and strong team that will be out to redeem itself."

"We can't afford to make any mistakes against them," said Townsend. "Melvindale is good, and we better come prepared to play."

The Vikings were ready for the Lions of Holy Redeemer. Inkster quarterback Michael Hunter got down to work immediately after the opening kickoff, which was put in play at the Vikings' own 20. On the first play from scrimmage, Hunter and wide receiver Jamal Poole connected on a 80-yard pass run play that gave them the hosts the first TD of the 1999 season.

The kick for the extra point sailed wide, but the Vikings had a 6-0 lead which they never relinquished.

On their next possession, Alfonso Clark and Hunter teamed up on a 15-yard touchdown pass that polished off a midfield drive. Fullback Antonio Wimberly scored the two-point conversion.

Inkster turned it into a 20-0 quarter thanks to Michael Gray's touchdown run that covered 65 yards. That score came with less than 1 minute left.

Holy Redeemer managed to settle down and play defense and held the Vikings out of the end zone the entire period.

In the third quarter, the Vikings struck again. This time Michael Gray got the call. Gray scored on a spectacular 58 yarder, and the Vikings also added the two-point conversion.

The Twisters bounced back from their first loss a week ago to shut out the Lima (Ohio) Thunder, 21-0, thanks to the defensive efforts of River Pollington (43), a defensive end, and linebackers Aaron Brothers and Bob Pensari (54).

Rockets

the call to go over. He scored from six yards out with 3:04 left. Catarino kicked the extra point.

Glenn defense, led by Jake

Tharp, who had an interception that was returned 19 yards, and Nick Rogiero, who picked off the game's only other interception, along with defensive end Ben Harris and Dan Smitherman, a defensive back, was outstanding.

Cooley attempted 19 passes and completed only one.

Glenn also received a commendable performance from fullback Ryan Rattray, who rushed for 56 yards on six attempts. He also was credited with picking up two key first downs in the closing minutes of the game which helped Glenn maintain possession of the ball.

Twisters

to Glenn Brothers, Twisters' CEO. The defense only gave up an additional 42 yards for a game total of 100 yards.

Pensari and Brothers each had six tackles, while Graca and Thompson finished with four apiece. James Chapman also chipped in with four tackles.

In addition, five Twister defensive down linemen - Cory McClelland, Ben Sikora, Ken Symanski, Earl Sutton and River Pollington each had two tackles.

The defensive play of the game went to McClelland and Pollington. McClelland had a crunching tackle on the Thunder QB who coughed up the football behind the line of scrimmage and Pollington was there to recover, setting up the Twisters' second TD in the third quarter.

Hagelthorn said he was pleased with the overall performance of the club. He praised the defense and the coaching staff for their efforts.

The Twisters have a bye for the Labor Day weekend. They will return to the gridiron on Sept. 11 when they travel to play the Lions, of Central, Ohio, who are the leaders in the Southern Division.

The game will be played in Columbus, Ohio.

The Lions will place a 6-game winning streak on the block.

Medlock

played an outstanding game on defense. Darius Robinson had 105-yards rushing on 14 carries, while Jarrett successfully managed to mixed up his passes to Johnson, Abdullah and Chad Mitchell, who had most of the catches.

On defense, 5-10, 260-pound Otis Smith and freshman cornerback Chris Larkins spearheaded the assault.

Medlock and the Bulldogs will have little time to enjoy their first victory. They face Willow Run at 7 p.m. Friday in Ypsilanti for their first Mega Conference game of the 1999 campaign.

"Traditionally Willow Run has a strong team," Medlock said. "They have a lot of talented athletes."

Willow Run is coming off of a 10-0 loss to Redford Thurston and will be seeking redemption at the expense of the Dearborn Heights' ball club.

Mega

itself.

"Fordson is a defense-oriented team," Carter added. "And on offense they like to wear you down. They turned over the ball against Kettering, which wasn't like them. They're going to come in here angry and eager to prove a point."

Romulus and Wayne were pointless the entire first quarter. It wasn't until the second period that the Eagles struck. Junior quarterback Dave Moonaw strung together a 73-yard, 13-play drive that was capped with a 11-yard touchdown pass to tight end Kevin Thomas.

That first of 1999 Romulus touchdowns went into the scorebook at 7:48 of the second quarter.

Ricky Foster booted the extra point and the Eagles had the lead 7-0.

Romulus struck again in the second period, and this time Moonaw engineered a 64-yard drive that ended with a 24-yard touchdown toss to Chris Tally.

After Foster kicked his second PAT, Romulus had a 14-0 advantage and appeared well on its way to the victory.

But Wayne came back after the ensuing kickoff and made the game interesting. With 2:13 left in the half, Wayne senior running back Kwame Hampton bolted through the Eagles' defenses and raced 72 yards for the Zebras' first touchdown.

Willie Perryman's attempt for the point-after failed, but Wayne was back in the game, 14-6.

Wayne kept the pressure on and added to the suspense with a third quarter touchdown which closed the gap, 14-12. The Zebras scored on a 25-yard pass as quarterback Matt Patterson fired the missile to Hampton for the TD.

Hampton's reception climaxed a three-play, 43-yard drive that included a deflected pass completion by Patterson to Nick Scott which covered 18 yards.

Wayne opted to go for two, but Patterson's pass failed to reach its intended target.

Romulus got some breathing room with their third, and final, TD of the game. With 6:06 left, Charlie Thompson went across the goal line in from 14 yards out. Foster then made it three straight points-after.

The Eagles' final score was aided by an illegal block penalty on an interception return which pinned Wayne's offense at its own 15 yard line.

Hampton began his senior year with 112 yards on 10 attempts. He rushed for one TD and also pulled down his second TD via a pass.

Moonaw delivered 141 yards on a nine of 20 passing performance. Sophomore Charles Searcy, a tailback, was credited with 69 yards on 14 tries and Wendell Woods came up with 46 yards on nine attempts. Thompson finished with 44 yards on eight rushes.

Woodson lauded the efforts of his linebacking corps made up of Foster, Thompson and Ray Graves. Foster accounted for seven solos and three assists and Thompson recorded six solo tackles and also had four assists while Graves, chalked up four tackles, six assists and two sacks of the quarterback.

John Western, a defensive tackle, also chipped in with three solos, eight assists and two sacks of the QB.

Mike Shaw stood out for the Zebras. He had eight initial hits and two assists. Perryman, who doubled on defense in the secondary, scored on four initial tackles and had an equal number of assists. Hampton, who also played both ways, had five tackles, and Clifton Edwards bagged five first-hits and two assists.

Romulus carded a total of 16 first downs as compared to Wayne's 12. Of those 16, the Eagles had 10 rushing and six by passing to Wayne's six rushing and two passing. Wayne was also rewarded four first downs because of Romulus infractions.

The Eagles also had the edge offensively. Romulus amassed a total of 325 yards - 195 rushing and 130 passing as compared to Wayne's 179 total yards. The Zebras had 129 rushing and 50 passing.

Vikings

Before the game ended, the Vikings put 14 more points on the scoreboard.

Gray amassed 130-yards on four carries and two TDs. He also had a 15-yard reception.

Senior Inkster tailback Lucius Hawkins scored once and finished with 125 yards on 14 attempts.

Hunter attempted 15 passes and found receivers nine times for 230 yards and two touchdowns. He also scored once on a keeper.

Poole had two catches, including that 80-yard touchdown. He had 135 yards for the game. Clark walked off the field with four catches and 80-yards and a TD.

Defensively, the Vikings received an outstanding game from middle linebacker Anthony Wimberly, who had 11 tackles, seven solos and one sack of the quarterback. Wimberly's brother, Antonio, also had an interception, four solos and 10 tackles, while Adrian Matthews, a defensive end, who is 6-2, 255-pounds counted 10 tackles, six sacks and two forced fumbles.

"I am very pleased with the overall effort of this team," said Townsend, who also pointed out that the Viking roster has only 15 players on it presently.

"Obviously we can't afford to have any injuries. We would be in serious trouble."

Townsend said that because the season started a week earlier this year, he hoped to see more students come out for the team once classes began.

Rumania honors City of Inkster, Mayor Bivens

More than 400 competitors, including a team that represented Rumania, took part in the 1999 Michigan National Pro-Am Karate Championships staged recently in the city of Inkster.

Senior Master Carl Tate, Jr. of Inkster and the city of Inkster were hosts for the tournament that brought together some of the premier karate experts of the nation.

"There is an adage that if you know what you're doing, it doesn't have to take years to promote a successful tournament," Tate commented after the winners were announced. "We're very proud at the way this tournament went."

Over 400 competitors and spectators jammed the Booker T. Dozier Recreation Complex.

The focus also was on bettering their regional rating on the IMAC circuit.

The League or Honor Awards were presented to the following longtime competitors: Grandmaster Arthur Cavallo of Michigan; Dennis White of Ohio; Jodi Tention of New York; Master Paul Montgomery of Missouri; James Barnes of Virginia; Master Dan Cousineau of Michigan; David Wilson of Illinois; Roger Noland of Oklahoma; Master Marlin Jenkins of Michigan and Gheogme Floriam of Bucharest, Rumania.

Also, a plaque was presented to Edward Bivens, Jr., the mayor of the city of Inkster, by the Rumanian State Department in appreciation of and a gesture of "good will" between the city and the newly-liberated nation of Rumania.

For more than five decades, Rumania was controlled by the Soviet Union and was one of the Balkan countries held captive behind the Iron Curtain.

Although the tournament was promoted as a state championship, the event drew competitors from the United States, Canada, and Rumania who sent members of their national karate teams.

The tournament was an exciting show of talent and skill and the grand champions of the tournament are:

- Askia Allison, in Men's Sparring;
- Davis Wilson, Senior Men's Sparring;
- T. Clayton, Women's Sparring;
- Tarrance Alfred, for Forms;

- Dan Cousineau, for Weapons;
- Richard Bell, for Breaking;

- Willie Hicks for the Youth Men Sparring;
- Mackenzie Moss, for Youth Women Sparring.

The city of Inkster has also been designated as the host city for the state championships next year. The championships will be conducted on Aug. 12, 2000 at the Booker T. Dozier Recreation Complex.

Join us in supporting MDA

By CAROL MARSHALL
MCN Staff Writer

When Michigan Community Newspapers publisher Mike Wilcox was approached by the Muscular Dystrophy Association of Michigan to lend a hand in their annual pledge drive, he didn't have to think twice before offering up an enthusiastic "Yes!"

He knew from the get-go that our local business community would be behind him 100 per cent. The business you see on the facing page have made generous donations to help the cause. They're in good company, too, with the likes of MDA supporters Anheuser-Busch, CITGO petroleum, Harley-Davidson, Kroger, Kinder-Care, Service-Merchandise, 7UP, Southland 7-Eleven, United Airlines, Blue Cross-Blue Shield, and Olive Garden Restaurants, just to name a few.

These business owners and managers have contributed to a charity they can believe in, and you can rest easy, too, when you make your pledge to MDA. Kiplinger's Personal Finance Magazine ranked MDA

#1 among national health agencies in their "Charities You Can Believe In" feature, stating that 81 per cent of donations spent on program services. The Chronicle of Philanthropy's annual "Philanthropy 400" report named MDA at the top of the list in cost efficient practices.

So watch the annual Telethon on channel WB20 this Labor Day weekend (about 80 million people will do the same), pick up the phone and give generously to this worthy cause.

MDA's Purpose and Programs

The Muscular Dystrophy Association fights 40 neuromuscular diseases through an unparalleled worldwide research effort, a nationwide program of medical services, and far-reaching professional and public health education. Individual MDA research grants to investigators in the United States and abroad number more than 500.

The Association's Medical and Scientific Advisory committees review projects that will increase knowledge in the neuromuscular field and may lead to treatments or cures for muscular dystrophy and related disorders.

MDA's Task Force on Genetics oversees studies of all aspects of genetic defects implicated directly or indirectly in neuromuscular diseases. Through MDA's patient services program, comprehensive medical services are furnished to children and adults with neuromuscular diseases at some 240 MDA hospital-affiliated clinics and through the Association's chapters.

What is muscular dystrophy?

The word dystrophy comes from Latin and Greek roots meaning "faulty nutrition." When doctors first began describing muscle diseases in the 19th century, they had few tools other than their own eyes. Muscles in many diseases appeared to be wasting away, and the doctors theorized that they somehow weren't being properly nourished.

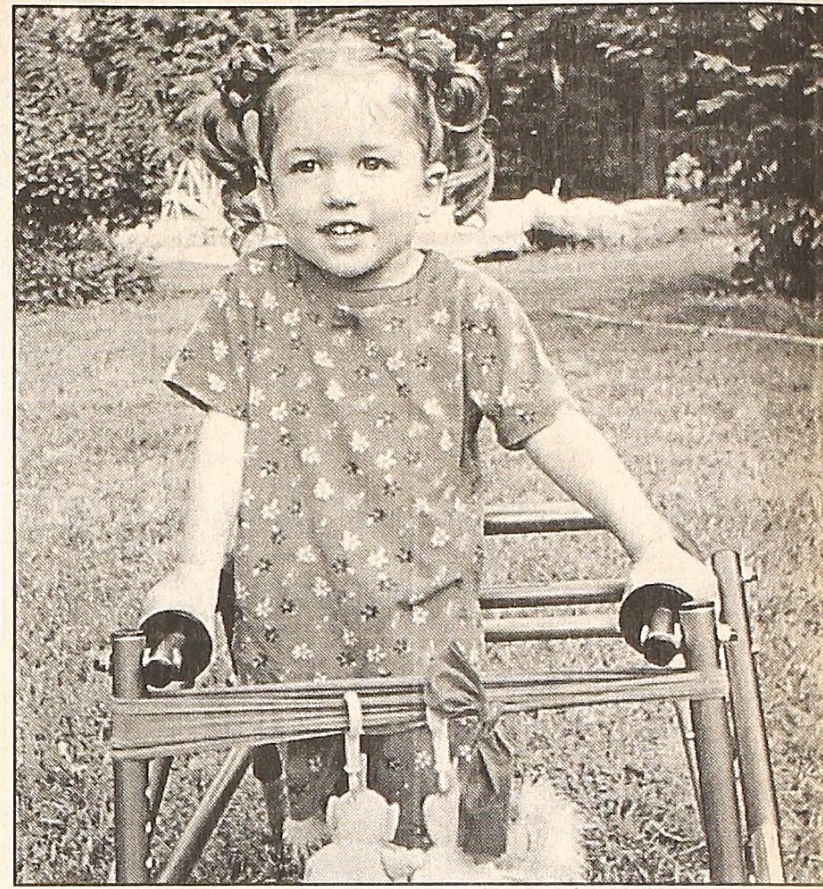

Today, we know that many muscle-wasting diseases are caused by defects in genes for muscle proteins. Most of these proteins appear to play a role in supporting the structure of muscle fibers, although some may play a role in the biochemical processes that go on in muscle fibers.

The term muscular dystrophy refers to a group of genetic diseases marked by progressive weakness and degeneration of the skeletal, or voluntary, muscles, which control movement. The muscles of the heart and some other involuntary muscles are also affected in some forms of muscular dystrophy, and a few forms involve other organs as well.

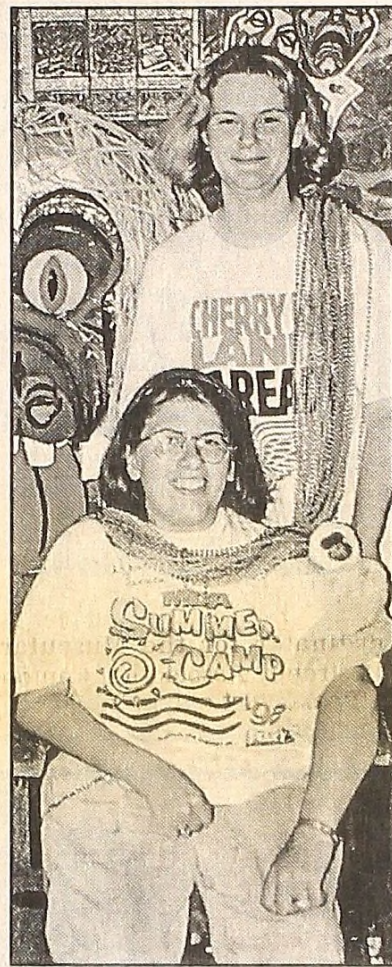

It affects people of all ages. While some forms first become apparent in infancy or childhood, others may not appear until middle age or later. With improved medical care, particularly of problems affecting the heart and lungs, more children with muscular dystrophy are living further into adulthood than ever before.

Father's story of his son, hockey, a dream come true

MDA patient services coordinator Maggie Segal passed this letter on to Michigan Community Newspapers. It's such a great example of how our community and MDA gets behind our neighbors in need that we couldn't resist sharing it with you.

Hockey on ice, now that doesn't sound too strange, unless it's with wheelchairs. But wait, I need to start at the beginning. Some 16 years ago at age 5, my son was diagnosed with Duchennes Muscular Dystrophy.

How hard that is no a family, words cannot express, but you learn to somehow cope. Sometimes you need to find an escape. Maybe family, a support group or church group to name a few. I found playing ice hockey as my escape, even if I did not start playing until I was in my late 20s. As my years on different leagues, my son's weakness progressed. I grew to realize I would never be able to skate with my son.

The fact that we live near Detroit and we can watch the Detroit Red Wings and University of Michigan hockey teams play, (and his dad, even if I'm not that good,) we always have a great time. It seems to make up for the fact of never being able to ice skate as father and son.

A few years ago, my son and a friend, Todd Pasant, started the Wheelchair Hockey League—well, it was six friends from school but to them it was a league. Because my wife and I took our son to the gyms they played at, I thought why not be a referee? Three years have passed since the beginning of the league and it just keeps growing and growing. Now there are four teams, with six players on a team. This summer when we took our son Andy to MDA camp, all I can say is an angel (her real name is Maggie Segal), our patient service coordinator, said she had some exciting news. Maggie told us about the possibility of getting the guys to play on ice at a real hockey rink. There were details that had to be worked out, but Andy with some help from his mom and a new friend, Gary Lullove, the plan was put into place.

On September 6, 1998, a father's dream came true. There I was standing on the ice as a referee as my son came onto the ice to the cheers of the crowd for every player. With the help of some special helpers, each player had someone on ice skates hold on to the push handles of the wheelchairs for safety. The helpers were some members of the Detroit Vipers Hockey Team and retired Detroit Red Wing, Ted Lindsay.

The game ended in a 4-4 tie. For me the highlight of the game was that my son Andy scored the first goal of the game. As referee, I have to stay neutral but I could not help from being unbelievably proud of him. That game is something I will cherish with all my heart.

My son is one special person. He has an illness that has taken many of his friends, but he always finds a way to cope. There may be some things that his body will not do, but after that hockey game on ice, you can never say never. Thank you, Maggie Segal, you have been there for the Siwarski family both in good times and bad. You will always be part of our family.

Working in the trenches

MDA workers get involved, heart and soul

By CAROL MARSHALL
MCN Staff Writer

Maggie Segal flew into the Canton office with a stack of papers and threw them on the cluttered desk. Unpacked boxes and unopened mail everywhere, she explains, "I'm sorry I'm running a little late. I just got back from summer camp yesterday and then had to go to a funeral for one of the patients last night."

Segal, a program service coordinator for the Muscular Dystrophy Association Canton office, is just one of the examples of how the association really impacts the lives of those they come in contact with. While MDA has perhaps the best-known fund raising event in the country, and thanks to their many pledges and sponsors can provide monies for vast research and programs. But MDA's real strength is not on the television, and it's not Jerry Lewis, and it's not always in the laboratory. The association makes the biggest difference one person at a time.

Segal says, "Our greatest service is helping our clients live life to the fullest."

In the trenches, she spends much of her time resourcing, helping with things like tracking down a hospital bed for one patient, assisting another get a wheelchair ramp built, and helping a mother with two disabled children get out of her house when southeast Michigan was buried in snow last winter.

"Our greatest service is helping them to live life to the fullest," she explains. While their doctors help to treat the illness and symptoms involved with muscular dystrophy, the association tries to treat the whole person—and their families.

When patients receive a diagnosis, and it's bad news, often they're overwhelmed, and cannot manage the day-to-day needs, which rapidly change when they get sick. Just trying to remain sane is task enough, then add to that the complicated insurance billing, changing physical needs, not to mention the fact that facing mortality has just become a reality.

She acts as an educator in the public schools or workplace when a client has special needs, helping employers or schools understand the needs of the patient. "Most of the issues are very ordinary, things that most of us would never think about," she explains. "But we don't have to worry about our kids walking up three steps to get to school, unless something like this happens to them."

She said by increasing awareness about special physical needs and accessibility issues, she helps patients remain independent and active for as long as possible. She admires the patients' courage. She tells a story about young Andy Siwarski, who with a few friends and his parents, founded the Wheelchair Hockey League in Westland.

Holding all of the patients she contacts in such high esteem, with such respect for their courage, she forges ahead, every day different, and every moment hectic.

And when the time has come when no more can be done, and it's time to rest, Segal slows down to shed a few tears, as she did when she told Brian Swica's story, only a few hours after she attended his funeral. At the age of 25, Swica had lived out more dreams than most of us dare, she explained.

After earning his degree in communications from Wayne State University in 1996, he went on to work as a news director at WBRW, channel 16 in Romeo.

He won a prestigious Philo Award for his documentary, "The Top Dawgs," about a 1960s top Romeo Bulldog basketball team, and was working on another, "Muscular Dystrophy Summer Camp: What your Mother Doesn't Know," when his health took a turn for the worse.

"He had two dreams," Segal says. "One was to see his sister get married. The other was to finish his documentary." His sister did indeed get married last June. But Segal continues, "He finished his documentary last Friday, then died on Monday."

Her admiration for young Swica is evident when she explains, "He was such an inspiration for everyone who met him. He changed lives."

And it never comes up in our interview that she does, too.

'The Sixth Sense' keeps you jumping

By SYBILLE MARR
MCN Staff Writer

Have you ever felt a cool breeze from behind you and turn around to see where it is coming from? Yet when you turn around you see nothing. No person, no open door, no open window, just a wall. Do you get shivers and move or do you stay and listen?

In the recently released movie The Sixth Sense Bruce Willis plays child psychologist Malcolm Crowe. He has won prestigious awards for his work.

In a unfortunate meeting with the patient the doctor finds himself rethinking his methods and rethinking himself. A year later he decides to take the case of an eight year old boy named Cole Sear, who is having many of the same problems and symptoms the past patient had.

Cole, played by Haley Joel Osment, doesn't sleep very well, he cries out in terror and nobody will be around or touching him. He has trouble with classmates, teachers, and others. They all think he is a freak. He knows some things that many people don't want revealed about themselves or even for that matter know about places or people. Yet

Cole does not lie. He has a secret way of finding these things out and it frightens him into convulsions.

That is the secret Dr. Crowe is hired to try to find out. He dedicates his time into finding out why Cole is in the terror that he is in. After numerous visits Cole finally reveals his secret, he has the ability to see and hear the dead.

Cole tells Crowe that he can see them walking around and he fears sometimes for his safety around them. Many come to him mad, wanting revenge on the world.

Dr. Crowe feels that this might not be solved my him and he may have to put Cole in a psychological institute or even medication to help. Yet the doctor tries a little further before he goes to the drastic measures.

During the course of the movie Willis feels sorry for the child and tries understanding the pain and fear that Cole is going through. All the while he is losing touch with his wife.

She wants a family and he does too, but his work is always in the way. He has his patients to worry about and she sits and waits for him to come to her.

This was a great movie. We are talking Oscar caliber performances here from a couple of the actors in this movie. Even though there is really no gore involved this movie is quite scary. It relies on you having your heart stop rather than blood splattering on the screen.

It keeps you jumping through all the trials for this poor kids paranormal experiences. It feels more like an older movie than a new aged one. You are jumping at opening or closing of doors quite like a Hitchcock movie. There is less gore in this movie than the past summer horror flicks (Scream, I Know What You Did Last Summer, etc.).

One scene that scares me every time I think about it is where Cole afraid of going to the lavatory in the middle of the night. He runs through the hallway hoping there is no ghosts wanting to threaten him. He sees a woman walk by in a robe. Thinking this is his mother he walks behind her and follows into the kitchen. When he asks why she is up she turns around. It in short is not his mother and he is traumatized once again. He runs off through the house and even crawls on all fours trying to get away from her. It was so heart wrenching to see the pain that Cole was going through. You just want to reach your arms out and hold him and tell him it will be alright.

The ending to this movie is the most surprising of all the movies this summer. You will never guess the outcome of this movie, unless someone has told you. You leave the theater either crying, like myself, or shaking your head and wondering why it happened. Don't get me wrong it was a great ending to an already wonderful movie. It was just a great surprise.

This was the only movie I have seen this year that I know will stay in my memory. Every time I turn off the lights I'll wonder who or what is in the room with me.
